HAVANA, March 21.—Reports of the discovery of a wiretapping outfit at Daytona Fla., yesterday and the confiscation of the paraphernalia aroused much interest here. An interview developed that there is no branch here of what is known as the International Trust Exchange. Several wiretapping gangs, who have been carried on in this city, the police say, and several combining persons have been victimized by some operating up into the thousands of dollars.

GERMANY WINS BIG VICTORY IN UPPER SILESIA ELECTIONS

(The Associated Press.)

BERLIN, Mar. 21.—Germany won an overwhelming victory in the Upper Silesia plebiscite yesterday, by polling over two-thirds of the votes cast, according to official returns received here today. Two districts remain to be heard from, but the result cannot affect the outcome.

SIXTEEN MEN FOUND NOT GUILTY IN GUN FIGHT CASE IN W. VA.

(The Associated Press.)

CHARLESTON, March 21.—Sixteen defendants, tried in connection with the fatal battle at Albert Felts, killed during the Mine War of last May, and the Matewan one four days later, were found not guilty today by a jury. The defendants were formerly indicted by the grand jury here on charges of murder and other crimes, but were transferred to the court at Logan on a change of venue. Twenty-two others charged in the same indictments charging implication in the death of six other private detectives, killed with the Lighthorse in the battle of Matewan, will be tried at the same time.

Complete Wiretapping Outfit Is Taken in Shooting Raid on Home Used by Fake Race Gamblers

With the Oliver residence at 815 Peninsula Drive riddled with bullets from many .34 revolvers and Winchesters, by a body of 150 armed, masked men, with the capture of a large wiretapping layout, prepared for a big killing; with the possible shooting of one man of the gang in the wiretapping joint, as he jumped from a second story window, followed by a fusillade of bullets; with the confiscation of a Cadillac eight, belonging to Ott Stanley, one of the leading lights of the fake racing game in Florida, with the kidnapping of Deputy Sheriff Bill Young, by the raiding party, with the exodus from the Tropic Cities of 30 wiretappers on Friday, 37 on Sunday and others planning to move immediately, the greatest clean up of the smooth gentry ever pulled over in this state, will be features of an attack on a big wiretapping rendezvous at Daytona Beach shortly before midnight Saturday.

Apparently out of a clear sky dropped more than the wrath of God upon the 37 automobile-ad from 11:30 Saturday night, in several blocks of the south end of the town. Where long years there were no more than a few scattered homes, there now stand 150 modern cottages and one palatial hotel.

The large party of men under the Ormond Drive, just south of the Oliver home at the north end of Ormond Peninsula, were rounded up in the garage and kitchen of the Oliver residence, and the walls and floors of the house, it is believed, were riddled with bullets from the guns they carried.

A portion of the gang surrounded the second Oliver home, where the chief operator, Stanley, was known to be living, and where the chief paraphernalia was stored. Others of the party surrounded the Oliver home on the north, while the main body of the raiders, many of them on foot, moved down the beach.

Apparently all of the gang were in the house when the attack was made, as the first shots were fired into the windows and doors of the house, and the walls and floors were literally riddled with bullets.

Shooting from by 150 men, part of them masked, some of party identified, occupied 27 automobiles.

Residence attacked (heard last January to gang of wiretappers. Only identification found was electric light receipt dated last Thursday, March 17, made out to Mrs. Chas. Bowman.

One of wiretapper party, thought to have been Stanley's chauffeur, likely killed in attack on house, after jumping from second story window, described as a short, dark complected man.

Thirty-seven men identified as wiretappers, took outgoing trains from Daytona Sunday, eight auto modules loads of others reported traveling north. Thirty wiretappers, among them members of the gang working the Oliver house, left the Tropic Cities Friday.

Cadillac Eight automobile identified as property of Stanley, one of the leading heads of the wiretapping clan, confiscated by Deputy Sheriff W. D. Young.

Complete outfit for operation of fake wiretapping game found in house, including Lambert's card checkboards, printed blanks, blocks of newspaper cut to fit wire in form being checked and drafts in scores of banks in all parts of North America.

Knock-out in correspondence with name "International Turf Exchange" offices in all the large cities of the United States, Canada, Mexico and Cuba.

Scared about the people in the house from which had been removed the furniture, were pictures of famous horses, and all the "come-on" stuff which wiretappers impress their victims with. A student's logic might make will in the future be too scared for their skin, the body of men disappeared southward in a cloud of dust, as previously to they had appeared. The whole affair had taken less than 15 minutes leaving residents of Daytona Beach at once in the real meaning of the shooting until the sun began the inspection and the scene of the attack made clear.

Deputy Sheriff Kidnapped.

Before the officials arrested the party sheriff W. D. Young, who had been kept at work night and day running down the wiretappers, in the beach has received a tip that a party of men in several cars had crossed the bridge at Port Orange, and were coming south below Ormond.

Young, suspecting that it was a party of wiretappers coming to rescue the party in the Oliver house, left the city limits of Daytona Beach in an automobile, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Bill Young. Young was kidnapped by the party, and Young was left on the road.

FACTS OF ATTACK ON WIRETAPPERS, IN TABLOID FORM

Elmer Oliver residence, 815 Peninsula Drive, riddled with bullets, windows and doors shot out, walls and ceilings studded with "45" bullets, in attack at 11:30 Saturday night.

Shooting done by 150 men, part of them masked, some of party identified, occupied 27 automobiles.

HOW'S THE WEATHER TODAY?

Sunday, with a high temperature of 82 degrees and low mark of 56 degrees, a clear sky, and moderate east winds, proved an ideal Florida day, quite in contrast to the reports from the Northern cities, proving conclusively that this is "God's Country." Other portions of the country had warm weather also.

Sinn Feiners and Hyphenated Americans Have no Place in America, Says Dr. MacArthur

As a prelude to his sermon last evening in the Cavalry Baptist church, Seabreeze, Dr. Robert Stewart MacArthur, the famous pastor, said:

Sinn Feinism has no rights in the United States.

Those who come to the United States from the old world ought to leave their family feuds, their political prejudices and their religious bigotries in the lands of their birth. We want no citizens here except those who are 100 per cent American. If a man cannot become an out and out American he ought not to come to America. America is for Americans. If men who receive the hospitality of our country cannot adopt our American civilization, then in the name of honesty, manliness, patriotism and religion, let them go back to the countries whence they came. We did not ask them to come to America; we do not ask them to remain. If they do not become Americans. We are vastly better off without them.

We are becoming weary of hyphenated Americans. We want no Irish-Americans, no Scotch-Americans, no English-Americans, no German-Americans, no Italian-Americans, and no hyphenated Americans, no matter from what country they may come. If I were in the hyphen business I might claim a hyphen for myself, but when I took the oath of allegiance as an American citizen I left all hyphens behind. It was not easy for me to forswear my allegiance to Queen Victoria, but when I did it I became an American without a hyphen of any kind.

Sinn Feiners living in the United States are disloyal to their adopted country when they create antagonism between Great Britain and the United States. Their propaganda here is an act of traitorism to the United States. They have no right to involve this country in hostility with Great Britain with the hope of bringing so-called freedom to Ireland. We cannot fight foreign wars on our American soil. If man living in our America wish to support Ireland, Germany, Italy or any other country, let them go at once to that country. The way is open. No one will oppose their going. But they cannot be permitted to remain in America to embroil our beloved country in hostility with any foreign country. Every movement in this land to make the United States the ally of Ireland, or Germany, or any other country against Britain ought to be, and certainly will be, rejected by all true Americans with infinite scorn.

The propaganda of the Irish to create hatred in America against Britain ought to be suppressed by law, if it cannot be controlled by popular sentiment. We were the ally of Britain in the great war just ended. We are now at peace with Britain. We have been at peace with her for more than one hundred years. We simply must avoid everything which would create friction between these two English speaking nations. The destiny of the world's civilization largely depends on the preservation of peace between these nations. To save the civilization of the world these two nations must stand together. conflict between them would be disastrous to all the best interests of the whole world.

The brown, the yellow the red and the black races are becoming conscious of their vast numbers and their great power. The recent war has done much toward giving a new alignment to all the races of the world. In proof of this statement think of India, of China, of Japan, of Arabia, of Africa and of the islands of the Seas! Should they combine they could master the world. These races are at this moment lining up for new combinations. Does anyone doubt the truth of this statement? If so let him read the recent book, entitled "The Rise of Color." Let him read the array of figures given in this book and he will see that the danger to white civilization is great. This is a startling book. The menace to Anglo-Saxon civilization assuredly is not to be ignored.

The Irish propagandists who are seeking to create war between the United States and Great Britain are the enemies of the United States, they are also the enemy of the highest civilization of the human race. We see by the recent outbreaks of the Irish in New York City against law and order what we might expect if men and women of their class were the dominant force in our American life. The United States must cease to be the home of this un-American and un-Christian propaganda. We must stand for things American, things that are pure, true, just, patriotic and Christian. We must not become embroiled in the internal quarrels, racial hatreds and religious bigotries of other lands. Let those citizens of foreign birth who cannot be true patriotic Americans go back to the lands whence they came and we shall bid them all a prompt and glad farewell.

We rejoice in the great meeting in Madison Square Garden last Friday evening, when General Pershing addressed the patriotic thousands who came to protest against those persons of foreign birth who are striving to create war between the United States and her allies in the great war. God save America!

GANDHI LEADS INDIA REBELS; MILLIONS REGARDS HIM AS HOLY

BRITISH GOVERNMENTS LOOKS UPON HIM AS A STICK OF DYNAMITE, HOWEVER

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

LONDON, Mar. 21.—Gandhi.

In every discussion of the troubles in India up bobs the name of the little man who to millions of Hindus is a mahatma—a holy man.

But the British government, while admitting his simplicity of life, the gentleness of his words and the restraint of his actions, looks upon Gandhi as dynamite.

He is the man who at a word may cause India's 250,000,000 to explode in disorder and revolution.

Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi is 51, with graying hair, the eyes of a dreamer, the slim hands of the orator, the figure of a boy.

He was educated as a lawyer in England. He practiced his profession in India and then went to South Africa, where he became a thorn in the side of the British by his championship of Hindu coolies, whom he considered oppressed by the laws of Natal.

When he returned to India he at once became a power.

His hold on the masses is due not only to his eloquence, but to the manner in which he lives. He dresses in native homespun. His feet are always bare. He invariably travels third class. He cooks his own meals. His diet is wheat, vegetables and fruit, goats' milk and salt.

Gandhi preaches the doctrine of passive resistance. The people are to have nothing to do with the British government and its works. No abhorrence. Yet it has been said of him that he instructed all the regiments of the East against the West.

A number of British army officers leaving their wives here in England. And it is not alone the Indian officials that is endorsing this proposition.

LAW WOULD SEND ALL BOOTLEGGERS TO JAIL

(The Associated Press)

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 21.—Running rum in Florida will become a hazardous occupation if the legislature acts favorably upon a measure which passes introduced a bill providing up of the liquor traffic and arming. The proposed law would abolish the privilege of paying a fine upon conviction for selling liquor and would have jail for the guilty as an additional punishment. Sponsors of the proposed measure say that the law would not only serve to discourage the operation of rum runners from Florida ports but would tend to prevent persons from becoming addicted to the habit of using liquor in some localities.

Tourists Here on Return from Trip in Central America

H. W. Richard of Lansing, Mich., accompanied by his son, Arthur, also a hustling business man of importance, are guests of Daytona Beach. They have been here before and are old friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ayers, who formerly conducted this hotel. They are back this far towards home from Costa Rica, Honduras, Panama, Cuba, and many other places of interest. They were very near the fighting point between Panama and Costa Rica, but saw none of it. Both the Messrs. Richard are much interested in Florida development and expect to make some substantial investments in the state. They are just back from a trip to Tampa to look over an extensive orange planting proposition, in which they may take some stock.

When asked what he had heard from his own home state he said: "Outside of Detroit I am informed business is all right up there. Looking where I live, is the best all right now of any Michigan city. Our industries are all running and about normal."

When questioned regarding Michigan politics, Mr. Rickerd, the father, said:

"We have two United States senators that many are not proud of. For years Senator Townsend has had the reputation of the man with two sides for most every question. I hear however, that he is about to marry the nurse that cared for his wife during her fatal illness. As for Truman Newberry, he was never elected. Henry Ford was really fairly elected. The recount in the Senate has been a farce, because so many thousand bad ballots have been reported. Newberry really has never been a citizen of Michigan. He maintains a home in Detroit, but he has spent (at least) most all of his time in New York, Atlantic City and other eastern points. I hear however, that his friends are very confident that he will be given a new trial by the United States supreme court and this escape serving a term in prison, but how much I don't know about it I cannot tell."

"HOPE MISSION" WORKERS ARE GUESTS AT THE BEACH

Miss Ella M. Talmage and Miss Elizabeth Niesmaier of Cincinnati, Ohio, have taken apartments at the home of Mrs. Alice Godsmarks, 420 Halifax avenue, for the remainder of the season. Both ladies are engaged with "The Hope Mission" of that city for dependent and homeless young girls. Miss Talmage is a niece of the late T. DeWitt Talmage, the famous Brooklyn minister. The organized and opened the mission over twenty years ago, and is now devoting it until the Christian people of that city recognized its wonderful possibilities and kindness. She is also a writer of no mean ability, and is the author of one of the most beautiful songs ever written, "Jesus Saviour of My Soul."

Miss Niesmaier is president of the mission, while Mr. Godsmarks is president. Both ladies are now doing a great work in the city of Cincinnati.

An Open Letter to People of Daytona Beach and Seabreeze on Expanding of Tax Districts

County Superintendent of Schools Sheppard states that the funds at the disposal of the school trustee boards are not sufficient to operate the county schools on a satisfactory basis and to maintain salaries necessary to keep our teachers. As a means of partial assistance he recommends that the special tax school districts be expanded so as to take in large areas which are not contributing to the present 2 mill tax. This matter must be considered in view of the reasons set forth by our county superintendent. It is the desirable that any extensive operations can proceed, so also if [illegible] considerable sums will become available for the support of our schools next year. "Education Plus Spirituality" Subject of Interesting Talk at Community Forum Sunday

Yesterday afternoon's Open Forum at the Auditorium proved to be one of the most interesting and instructive of the winter. Next Sunday afternoon will be the last of these wonderful opportunities for the year, but President Robert S. Holmes promises many more great talks for next year.

After the usual community singing led by Director James Heaton, the audience was given the great privilege of hearing two solos beautifully rendered by Mrs. O. R. Kalset, who has become a prime favorite in the Triple Cities.

Dr. Emanuel Sternheim, the speaker of guest, was appropriately introduced by President R. S. Holmes.

The fundamental problem confronting American civilization today is the task of bringing ideals of American citizenship to the citizens of tomorrow, and there is no other real method than through education, said the thought expressed by Dr. Sternheim, who is a lecturer in Americanization of the Children of the State of New York, in opening his address.

Dr. Sternheim pointed out to us the difficulty in the definition of education which Socrates gave different times in many words. Every progressive want and tendency of age prompts itself to us in many different shapes of aims. The function of the teacher is to see values, then to live in fulfill this predominant want and to the speaker's conception, ideals is that want in 1927 for America.

It is a truism to say that the sins and suffering of civilization are due not so much to bad laws by wrong but to lack of realization. We want to see life as an interpretation of facts, and the war compelled us to see it as a complex of relationships. To measure economics of education is impossible, but the speaker added he wanted to express one thought on that evolution, best put in words of Henry Van Dyke. The spirit of America knows the ingredient only intellectual training is slowly rising to education."

The speaker was confident that we shall work to change the individualism and to put into education deeper social comprehension; to do this properly we need more of reason, of imagination, of literature, of leisure and of citizenship. From these different angles education was viewed in a very interesting manner by Dr. Sternheim, who stood for wider extension of education, but better selection. Better learning by better paid teachers is the pressing need of the hour. This is not only a question of dollars and cents, but it goes to the fundamental of the underestimation of the altruistic profession in America today.

In three simple terms he gave the three aims of education which must prevail tomorrow. First, fitting of men to be explorers in field of science and learning. Second, fitting of men to be masters on the field of action. Third, widespread cultivation for intellectual pleasures. These points bring out a complacement of ideals expressed in terms, "education, vocation, culture." The tragic error has been that emphasis has been placed on one of these instead of recognizing their inability except in unity. A great English educator has just said, "The last century was spiritually a failure," and the speaker added, "It is true we subordinate the development of character to the acquisition of knowledge and as a result fall down in modernity and usefulness unrest.

There must be understanding in America in regard to education, that the materialistic viewpoint is not wrong, because it deals with realities also. Here is the basis of educational reconstruction, we need science and imagination, or, in other words, the picture of the forward view. Spirituality must be the fundamental essence of reconstruction. By spirituality we do not mean an arid, sectarian, religious viewpoint, but a broad spiritual outlook based on the social ideal of education to make religion, in the widest connotation of that term, a living force in youth. If we are to do this we must spiritualize and widen our own interest.

SOUTHERN CATTLE LOAN CO. IS FORMED IN JAX.

(The Associated Press.)

JACKSONVILLE, March 19.—Organization of the Southern Cattle Loan company here with a capital of $25,000 and the election of J. G. King of Arcadia, South Florida stock man, as president, has been announced. Headquarters of the concern will be in Jacksonville and it is proposed to begin operations about March 20. Other officers of the company include L. H. Odom, city attorney of Jacksonville, vice president; Arthur T. Williams, Jacksonville, secretary and treasurer and Garrett Murphy, Bradenton, second vice president. The directors comprise the following in addition to the officers named: W. B. Miller, Boynton; R. A. Henderson, Fort Myers; C. B. Rogers, H. M. Bennett and R. M. Bingg, Jacksonville.

The bank will specialize on cattle loans, a feature again which no institution in this state has heretofore centered itself. The bank will maintain a department of appraisal and value data and will be in a position at any time to make loans to ranchers when their live stock is in proportion to the security offered.

Functions of banks of this character have been granted by the federal government and the department of agriculture recently issued a bulletin outlining the work of cattle loan banks.

VISITING EDITORS ARE ROYALLY ENTERTAINED

ber of Commerce and hotel men of the Triple Cities.

Assembling at the Casino Burgoyne at 10 o'clock Monday morning, the members of the Editorial association were guests at a delightful program of music and speeches, being followed by a luncheon-spread, given by the Daytona Hotel Men's association on the Casino lawn.

The speeches during the morning hours were of the most delightful, yet forceful heard by the editors and their families according to the expressed opinion of many.

Archibald Welcomes Guests.

Starting the program, S. C. Archibald, president of the Chamber of Commerce, delivered a very eloquent, pleasing and touching speech of welcome, stating that "We of the Halifax are ever glad to have as our guests any body, organization or individual, but we are more glad to have here today as our guests of honor the National Editorial association."

Continuing, Mr. Archibald said: "When you drive on our incomparable beach, or through our lovely semi-tropical drives, arched by the giant magnolia or live oak, cloaked with moss-growing moss or when you walk or drive through our streets, and on the banks of the picturesque and historic Halifax, think of them as yours as well as ours."

Mr. Archibald's address of welcome was delivered in a manner that won the hearts of the association members, and made them feel as though they were indeed at home in the midst of our city.

Past President Replies.

The response for the entire was delivered by Mr. Wicks, who presided in a very efficient manner. Mr. Wicks said in his gracious manner, that he had been impressed by the modern and actual developments throughout this state and the hearty manner in which the natives had welcomed and entertained the N. E. A. during their visit and said: "I am sure that not only the National Editorial association is welcome in Daytona and in Florida but everyone else. We have been very much pleased with the scenery and good roads, ocean and beach and trees and flowers."

Mr. Wicks responded to President Archibald's welcoming address in a very pleasing manner and paid tribute to the wonderful development in the state of Florida, and expressed a desire to come again at some future time. Mr. Wicks said that he knew many members of the association would come back next winter, if not before.

Many Taking Trip.

Many taking the automobile trip to Jacksonville at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and a number of them overnighting at Port Orange. Those who will not make the trip will be entertained at the Casino Burgoyne.

Following the program at the Casino this morning, a delightful luncheon was served by the Daytona Hotel Men's association, which was enjoyed by all present.

"Mission of the Editor."

The talk delivered by Dr. Gore, entitled "The Mission of the Editor," touched the right chord by the hearts of every man who is or aims to be an editor. He dwelt on the functions of a daily, and the qualifications which editors should have.

In the speech Dr. Gore flattered the editorial fraternity, saying that a man who is not a good editor could not be a good lawyer, preacher or doctor, and that the opinions of editors should be considered with the same confidence as lawyers and doctors.

In the course of his talk Dr. Gore said that editors should be men of clean character, and that they should be men of broad education, and that they should be men of sound judgment.

Dr. Gore also said that editors should be men of courage, and that they should not be afraid to express their opinions, even though they may be unpopular at the time.

Dr. Gore also said that editors should be men of sympathy, and that they should be men of tact.

Dr. Gore also said that editors should be men of vision, and that they should be men of foresight.
